Poul Jensen is 80 years old and has suffered from COPD for several years. He has been in and out of hospitals many times, and at the end, he was in such a bad state that he wasn't able to walk or finish a sentence, because of the lack of air.

Poul has tried different types of inhaler medicine, has received adrenal cortical hormone on several occasions and has an inhalator with "Bricanyl," which he often uses – along with oxygen, used all day through.

Poul and his wife read about the air purifier MAC500 and gave me a call.

I am not sure it will be able to help Poul, but I offer them to borrow the air purifier for some weeks, since I know from experience that they will be able to see results within few days, if any.

Poul contacted me today (21 days after having borrowed the air purifier).
And he is just extremely happy. He tells me the following:

They activated the air purifier right after they received it.

After 3 days, Poul starts feeling a difference.

Poul doesn't have to take his inhaler medicine so often, and he gradually reduces his use of the medicine.

He further tries to reduce his use of oxygen - on the 1st day one hour without oxygen, - the 2nd day two hours - the 3rd day 3 hours, and today, Poul doesn't use oxygen during the daytime - only 6 hours during the night.

Today, he is not taking any medicine at all.

He goes for short walks outside – he is capable of walking 30 metres and is gaining his strength. He makes their bed every morning – and can have a normal conversation without struggling with breathing.

Poul says that he feels really well – and doctors etc. may feel free to contact him.
